Research Papers
Archaeomagnetic paleointensity in the American Southwest during the past 2000 years
R.S. Sternberg (Tucson, AZ, U.S.A.) 1
Archeomagnetic results from southwest United States and Mesoamerica, and comparison with some other areas
R.L. DuBois (Norman, OK, U.S.A.) 18
Secular variation from Mexican stalagmites: their potential and problems
A.G. Latham (Ottawa, Ont., Canada), D.C. Ford, H.P. Schwarcz and T. Birchall (Hamilton, Ont., Canada) 34
Geomagnetic intensity variation during the last 4000 years
M.J. Aitken, A.L. Allsop, G.D. Bussell and M.B. Winter (Oxford, U.K.) 49
Relative paleointensity of the Earth's magnetic field from marine sedimentary records: a global perspective
L. Tauxe (La Jolla, CA, U.S.A.) and J.-P. Valet (Cif/Yvette, France) 59
Study of secular variation (2000 BC–1900 AD) based on comparison of contemporaneous records in marine sediments and baked clays
Y.Z. Cong (Qingdao, People's Republic of China) and Q.Y. Wei (Beijing, People's Republic of China) 69
A review of lacustrine paleomagnetic records from western North America: 0–40 000 years BP
R.L. Hanna and K.L. Verosub (Davis, CA, U.S.A.) 76
Paleomagnetic dating of postglacial sediments, Vancouver Island, Canada
J.S. Mothersill (Victoria, B.C., Canada) 96
Further paleomagnetic results from Pleistocene sediments in northern Canada supporting the existence of stationary secular variation sources
M.E. Evans, K.P. Gillen and M.A.H. Hedlin (Edmonton, Alb., Canada) 105
A possible lacustrian paleomagnetic record of the Blake episode from Pringle Fall, Oregon, U.S.A.
E. Herrero-Bervera, C.E. Helsley (Honolulu, HI, U.S.A.), S.R. Hammond (Newport, OR, U.S.A.) and L.A. Chitwood (Bend, OR, U.S.A.) 112
Variable dispersion of Neogene geomagnetic field directions in Iceland
L. Kristjansson and H. Johannesson (Reykjavik, Iceland) 124
Detailed paleomagnetic records during the Brunhes–Matuyama geomagnetic reversal, and a direct determination of depth lag for magnetization in marine sediments
M. Okada and N. Niitsuma (Shizuoka, Japan) 133
A detailed geomagnetic record from Chinese loess
T.C. Rolph, J. Shaw (Liverpool, U.K.), E. Derbyshire (Leicester, U.K.) and W. Jingtai (Lanzhou, People's Republic of China) 151

Letter Section

Centroid-moment tensor solutions for July–September 1988
A.M. Dziewonski, G. Ekström, J.H. Woodhouse and G. Zwart (Cambridge, MA, U.S.A.) 165

Tidal gravity, heat flow, and the upper crust
E.S. Robinson (Blacksburg, VA, U.S.A.) 181

The phase lag of Earth tides and the braking of the Earth's rotation
P. Melchior (Brussels, Belgium) 186

Research Papers

Earthquakes associated with the back-arc opening in the eastern Bismarck Sea: activity, mechanisms, and tectonics
T. Eguchi (Palisades, NY, U.S.A.), Y. Fujinawa, M. Ukawa (Ibaraki, Japan) and L. Bibot (Port Moresby, Papua New Guinea) 189

Microearthquakes and tectonics in an active back-arc basin: the Lau Basin
T. Eguchi (Palisades, NY, U.S.A.), Y. Fujinawa and M. Ukawa (Ibaraki, Japan) 210

Mössbauer study of some archaeological materials in Tamilnadu, India
K. Ramaswamy, M. Dheenathayalu and S. Barathan (Tamilnadu, India) 230

Palaeomagnetism of early Cambrian Brigus red shale, eastern Newfoundland
M.K. Seguin and K.V. Rao (Quebec City, Que., Canada) 242

Tectonic strain and paleomagnetism: experimental investigation
G. Borradaile (Thunder Bay, Ont., Canada) and J. Mothersill (Victoria, B.C., Canada) 254

An analysis of paleomagnetic secular variation in the Holocene
V.L. Hagee and P. Olson (Baltimore, MD, U.S.A.) 266

Evaluation of Indian coastal response: an integrated approach
N.K. Thakur (Hyderabad, India) 285

Source process of the great 1971 Solomon Islands doublet
S.Y. Schwartz, T. Lay and L.J. Ruff (Ann Arbor, MI, U.S.A.) 294

Calculation of a high-pressure equation of state from low-pressure properties
M.A. Barton and F.D. Stacey (Brisbane, Qld., Australia) 311

Displacement and stress produced by a pressurized, spherical magma chamber, surrounded by a viscoelastic shell
M. Dragoni and C. Magnanensi (Bologna, Italy) 316

Fish Canyon Tuff, Colorado: the problem of two magnetic polarities in a single tuff
B.B. Ellwood (Arlington, TX, U.S.A.), J.C. Stormer, Jr. (Houston, TX, U.S.A.) and J.A. Whitney (Athens, GA, U.S.A.) 329

Magnetic fabric in the Biella and Traversella stocks (Periadriatic Line): implications for the mode of emplacement
F. Hrouda (Brno, Czechoslovakia) and R. Lanza (Torino, Italy) 337

The stress field induced from the occurrence of the 1944 Tonankai and the 1946 Nankaido earthquakes, and their relations to impending earthquakes
S. Yoshioka (Kyoto, Japan) and M. Hashimoto (Ibaraki, Japan) 349

Dielectric determination of rock fabric anisotropy
M. Hawton and G. Borradaile (Thunder Bay, Ont., Canada) 371

Metal–silicate–water reaction under high pressure. I. Formation of metal hydride and implications for composition of the core and mantle
T. Suzuki, S.-I. Akimoto and T. Yagi (Tokyo, Japan) 377

Waveform inversion using ABIC for the rupture process of the 1983 Hindu Kush earthquake
S. Yoshida (Tokyo, Japan) 389
